Republic Technologies

The Project

We were tasked with offering a solution to replan the existing office space allowing for the needs of each individual team.

Attention was required to the location of existing power and data points along with the storage requirements of each department.

We supplied modern desking and seating in keeping with the company image including a few sit to stand workstations in order to encourage for short periods of stand up working.
